CORE COMPLIANCE GROUP NOW AUTHORIZED DISTRIBUTOR FOR GASCLIP TECHNOLOGIES PORTABLE GAS DETECTORS

ZELIENOPLE, PA — June 8, 2015. Core Compliance Group, Inc. (CCG) is now an authorized distributor of GasClip Technologies innovative portable gas detectors. Designed for use in oil and gas, utilities, wastewater, telecommunications, marine, or other demanding industries, these units utilize a low-power source and photometric technology to provide fast, accurate measurement of combustible gases below lower-explosive limit, an essential requirement for maintaining worker safety in confined spaces.

Available in single- and multi-gas models, these units offer a battery life of two-months on a single charge, an important feature for workers in the field. Many conventional multi-gas detectors must be charged once or even twice daily, adding to expense and reducing the productivity of field technicians.

In addition to long battery life, these detectors are simple to use — one button is all that's needed for operation and maintenance. With a docking station, four detectors can be calibrated and bump tested simultaneously in just 20 seconds!
